

Wonder ARP

The ARP 2600. The natural choice of great musicians like Stevie Wonder.

The 2600 is the best complete professional-quality synthesizer on the market. It's durable. Dependable. Has a four-octave keyboard that lets you bend notes and slide from one note to another. And it's human engineered for the easiest playing imaginable.

What's more, the 2600 can accurately duplicate any instrument you've ever heard. And can even create 1001 sounds you've never heard, except maybe in your mind.

Best of all, this incredible instrument never goes out of tune, because its filters and oscillators are absolutely the most stable and accurate that money can buy.

No wonder Stevie goes with ARP.
Now how about you?
